Project :

Project Title: Protecting cloud data with dynamic security via network coding.

Description: We show that some of the secure network coding schemes can be used to construct efficient secure cloud storage protocols for dynamic data, and we construct such a protocol (DSCS I) based on a secure network coding protocol. We construct another secure cloud storage protocol (DSCS II) specific to append-only data — that overcomes some limitations of DSCS I. Finally, we provide prototype implementations for DSCS I and DSCS II in order to evaluate their performance.
